NEW YORK, New York (March 2016) - Luxury glass lighting brand, Niche, is excited to be exhibiting at the Architectural Digest Design Show (ADDS) March 17-20, for the first time since 2006. This year, Niche is proud to debut their two newest chandeliers: The Solitaire Modern Chandelier and the Pod Modern Chandelier.

Both the Solitaire Modern and Pod Modern Chandeliers are part of the Niche Sola 36 Chandelier Collection. The bespoke Pod Chandelier is hand-blown and creates a unique and sophisticated look while the elegant and timeless Solitaire Chandelier features Niche's signature Solitaire glass shape. The Chandeliers are available in a range of Niche's transparent glass colors including Crystal, Gray, Amber, Smoke, Sapphire, Plum and Chocolate. Both are available in brushed or polished aluminum and in a new satin brass metal finish. Additional metal finishes are available as custom order. Pre-ordering at the show is encouraged; these stock finishes will be available to ship early to mid-summer.

Creative director, Jeremy Pyles, notes, "We're pleased to be returning to the Architectural Digest Design Show with a spotlight on our chandeliers. For the past 10 years we've really focused solely on our signature glass pendant lighting so we wanted to do something different. By calling attention to our chandeliers we're proud to show the design community our range and creativity."

Visitors to the booth are encouraged to say hello and enter to win the giveaway of a Niche signature pendant of their choice. Winner will be announced and notified by email on Wednesday March 23rd, 2016.
