FEYZ DEBUTS THE ASSEMBLAGE COLLECTION AT THE ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST DESIGN SHOW

4 New Sculptural Pieces to Elevate Your Living Space

Booth M1105

New York, NY (March 2017) -- For the first time, FEYZ, a New York and Istanbul-based, multi-disciplinary design studio, will participate in the Architectural Digest Design Show in New York City, March 16-19. The Studio will showcase "Assemblage," its first lighting collection, in the Made section, where emerging artisans and international studios showcase original designs including art, fine furniture, and lighting.

Established in 2015 by Feyza Köksal, Founder and Lead Designer, the Studio creates high quality, timeless and sculptural products and spaces. With a background in architecture, urban development, and glassblowing (she trained early on with Turkish glass artist, Feleksan Onar), Köksal draws inspiration from her hometown of Istanbul. In fact, the Basilica Cistern, which dates back to the 6th century and is the largest of hundreds of ancient cisterns buried beneath Istanbul, sparked the idea for "Assemblage." The dark, moody atmosphere and dimly lit, cracked and stained columns with original engravings combined with Köksal's love of antiques, particularly the use of material and patterning of African spears and Ottoman armor, inspired the four-piece lighting collection.

The glass globes, a signature in every FEYZ design, are not perfect spheres and are made with the intention of being beautiful art pieces themselves. The difference in glass thickness causes a spectacular dispersion of light. Each globe has gold leaf (inspired by the ancient process of gilding and damascening, as well as the aging look of the Cistern columns) that is carefully added when the glass is still hot and malleable. When the globe is lit and glowing the gold leaf detail resembles constellations.

"As a designer, I am very interested in how certain objects activate a space and evoke different emotions. And I am especially inspired by imperfection," Köksal said. "The imperfections of the glass and metal finish add character and carry the marks of craftsman. Each design is created by hand in Brooklyn and you can tell that nothing is factory made, everything is unique."
