TOPHER GENT exhibits new work at the Architectural Digest Design Show

PROVIDENCE, Rhode Island, March 9, 2018 - TOPHER GENT announces he will be exhibiting new designs at the Architectural Digest Design Show in New York this month. He will be exhibiting the latest work from his Hedra Series and launching the Draftsman Series.

The Hedra series is a collection of hand-made sculptural steel furniture making up an elegant group of seating and surfaces. While Topher has been known to implement his hand rubbed patinas in this series, the Hedra Bench and Hedra Floating Console will be shown in a pearlescent white powder coat with subtle undertones of a vibrant violet sheen.

The Draftsman Series is a gestural lighting collection comprised of LED fixtures boasting dramatic cantilevers and sensitive moments of balance. This bespoke series of lighting is made to order and is highly customizable. The Draftsman No. 1 can stand alone as a sculptural accent, or variations can be grouped together for an impressive mobile-style installation.

This year marks Topher Gent's second exhibition in New York with the Architectural Digest Design Show in the MADE section. The juried MADE section is a resource for handcrafted, often limited edition or one-of-a-kind furnishings, accessories, and art pieces. The event is held at Piers 92 & 94 (55th Street at Twelfth Avenue) from March 21-25, 2018. Topher's bold installation can be seen at Booth M811.
