

For Immediate Release:

New York, NY, March 22, 2018 - Goebel & Co. Furniture exhibits new designs at the 2018 Architectural Digest Design Show in New York. Goebel & Co. will be featuring new work from their residential collection.

Represented in retailers around the world, Goebel & Co. headquarters both their showroom and workshop in Saint Louis, MO.

Distinguished by fine materials, hand-craft, automation and original design, Goebel & Co. partners with luxury brands and designers in the residential, hospitality and contract furniture markets.

Goebel & Co. continues to present designs of superior quality and innovation evident through the use of timeless lines and uncompromising craftsmanship. Products are created using their unique American manufacturing process rooted in the intersection of hand-craft, digital design and automated production. Goebel & Co.'s aesthetic emphasizes simplification, facilitating better life through elemental design while celebrating the world's finest materials.

Included in the new line of residential offerings, the "Luna Rocker" represents a shift of focus to luxury residential design while Goebel & Co. continues to assert itself as a benchmark of style and craftsmanship within the global Contract and Hospitality markets.

Represented by President and Creative Director, Martin Goebel, Goebel & Co. has previously launched new designs at, NeoCon Chicago, and BD West Los Angeles.

Goebel & Co. Furniture will be showing at Booth 233, Pier 94, March 22-25.
