Argosy Product Division (APD) will be exhibiting select pieces from Collection I in the 2019 Architectural Digest Design Show, March 21 - 24, 2019, MADE booth M1021.

Founded by the husband-and-wife duo who established the acclaimed Brooklyn-based design and fabrication studio Argosy Designs, Erik Johnson and Jen Johnson-Kuhn have specialized in custom metalwork for fifteen years.

APD: Collection I offers an array of industrially modern, exquisitely made products, created by skilled artisans with the same attention to detail and commitment to craftsmanship that established Argosy Designs as an industry leader in custom metal fabrication.

APD will also display a unique steel sculptural wall divider by John-Paul Philippe, an artist, designer, and longtime collaborator of Argosy Designs. John-Paul's work is regularly shown internationally and ranges from paintings and murals to large scale interior design elements, furniture, and lighting. His design aesthetic has been at the forefront of the Barneys New York store concept design and interior art throughout the United States and Japan.
