U-Line Introduces 5 Class Collection of Products

February 13, 2019 (Milwaukee, WI) - U-Line, the industry leader in premium ice making, refrigeration, and wine preservation products launches a new collection of premium products featuring stainless steel interiors and a host of industry leading features designed with residential users in mind.

All models include an industry exclusive full-depth lower interior that maximizes storage options. This is made possible by using a variable speed compressor which delivers maximum energy efficiency, faster temperature responses, and quieter operation.

"The commercial strength of these products is evident with stainless steel inside and out, but that's only part of the story," says David Carr, Director of Product & Marketing for U-Line Corporation. "We paid close attention to details homeowners are looking for such as Slide & Secure™ Bins, soft close doors, and our U-Adjust™ interior that includes 19 points of adjustability, allowing users to configure to their specific needs."

The 5 Class Collection is most complete undercounter premium offering available, providing designers the most options when designing custom kitchens. The collection includes 42 models that span 3 product categories: Beverage Centers, Wine Captain® Models, and Refrigerators. All models are available in stainless steel and integrated finishes. Integrated models accept custom panels designed to match surrounding cabinetry. Additionally, integrated models can accept U-Line's Stainless Handleless Panels for a clean, modern design. Models can be built-in or used freestanding. Available widths include 15", 24", and industry exclusive 18".

"Our new 5 Class Collection demonstrates U-Line's leadership in the premier segment of the undercounter landscape," says Andy Doberstein, President of U-Line Corporation. "Dealers and consumers are excited about this new collection and we look forward to delivering more new products throughout 2019 and beyond."
