

Nate Cotteran Glass is proud to showcase the BLOSSOM Lighting System at the AD Show 2019! The BLOSSOM is part of our adaptive lighting system concept. Created to enhance the relationship between designer and artisan glass blower, allowing freedom to customize elements in an otherwise standard sourcing environment.

The adaptive lighting system allows designers to create the solution, instead of them typically needing to find their solutions. The systems are grounded in finished pieces to represent the artist's design direction; then the possibilities open up from there.

BLOSSOM LIGHTING SYSTEM

The Blossom Lighting System is designed with the opportunity to play with the interior and exterior of the glass shade.

There is a unique metal fixture that seamlessly and securely suspends the glass shades in an open position.

With one module or a grouping, the system creates an installation that is both functional and beautiful.

All lighting is handmade in our North Carolina studio and is UL Certified

Nate Cotterman Glass has been featured in Food and Wine Magazine, Martha Stewart Living, California Home and Design, Elle and more!

The attraction to his work is its subtle yet striking beauty, letting the material create the mystique. Nate's dedication to his craft and commitment to excellence has recently awarded him a three year Residency to the Penland School of Craft in Penland, NC. Nate is using this residency to propel his work through thoughtful and strategic advancements.